Society and Clubs

FORTY-NINERS' CLUB

The Forty-Niners' Club is one of the most colorful and spectacular organizations in Ukiah the existence of which a large part of the community is totally unaware. The club was formed as an outgrowth of the activities of the Forty-Niners' Orchestra. its chief objective being to hold the dances given by this musical company up to a certain standard of excellence. The orchestra is composed of C. A. Carlson, violin; William Winsby. banjo; George Stubblefield, guitar, and Mrs. C. A. Carlson, piano. The musicians all wear the high cowboy hats and bright-colored silk handkerchiefs knotted about their necks and sing the well-known folk songs to their own accompaniment. The club which has about 100 active members is directed by Ben A. Thornton, president; Mrs. Elsie Thornton, secretary; J. P. Summers. floor manager; Tom Hall and Harold Shook, doorman, and Mrs. F. Howie, refreshments chairman. Only such old-fashioned dances as the quadrille, waltz, polka, schottische, mazurka, Paul Jones and Virginia reel are danced. The dances are held at Boring hall on the second and fourth Saturday evenings of the month. The one given this week was attended by about 70 couple. Many of the members are becoming very proficient in executing the old-fashioned steps. One dance put on at the last party, styled the "Masuviania.' with its graceful and intricate forms, was worth the price of admission to witness. Members come from some distances in neighboring communities and counties to enjoy the festivities. Ray Bower and his brother and their wives drove up from Cloverdale. Saturday evening, to attend. The dances always begin at eight o'clock and the supper is served at 11 o'clock.

THE RIVIERA OPENING SET

Dancing Pavilion And Beer Garden, Cold Creek, Starting

The Riviera, the new open-air dance floor, located at Cold Creek at the junction of the Upper Lake-Ukiah-Potter Valley roads, will have its opening dance Saturday, May 19. The Blue Boys orchestra will play for the opening.

Has High-Class Floor.

The new dance hall will have one of the most up-to-date dance floors in northern California. Beaver pressed wood, put out by the Masonite Corporation, is to be put on the floor. This is a tempered wood, harder than hardwood. The dance floor in the famous Bal Tabarin night club in San Francisco is of Beaver pressed wood. Universal City in Hollywood uses it in the studios and the beautiful floor in the picture, Follies of 1934, is of the same type the Riviera floor will be.

To Have Beer Garden.

A most attractive beer garden will be operated and Mesdames Crinella and Bradshaw will be in charge of the cafe and all dishes served will be home-prepared and of exceptional excellence.

This camp, which carries 50 men at present, is being reorganized by Mr. Coombs and will soon be filled to the capacity of 150 men. The natural surroundings, the large building and cottages on the premises, recreational halls and the plunge of natural hot water, makes this location one of the finest in the state.

40 YEARS OF TEACHING ENDS

Mrs. Annie Babcock Is To Retire—Capable And Lovable

(The Willits News)

At the meeting of the school board held Tuesday night of this week, the resignations of Mrs. Annie Babcock, principal of the Willits elementary school, and W. H. Beery, a teacher in the high school, were received. Although the teaching staff has not yet been made up for next year, it is probable these will be the only vacancies to be filled with new teachers.

Long Has Taught.

Mrs. Babcock's resignation brings to a close an active career of 40 years of teaching and school work. Mrs. Babcock has served as a teacher in the Willits school 14 years, and before that spent 14 years in other schools of this county, four years teaching in Los Angeles county and eight years as deputy county superintendent of this county.

To Get $500 Yearly.

She will retire at the close of the present school year on a salary of $500 per year, which is paid from the retirement fund to which all school teachers contribute. After 30 years of teaching any teacher may retire on the above retirement pay.

Sorry Mrs. Babcock Quits.

The school board and all of our citizens will regret Mrs. Babcock's decision to retire, but all are agreed she is entitled to a well earned rest. Mrs. Babcock will, of course, continue to make her home in Willits and will continue to serve in the capacity of secretary of the local school boards, as she has done the past two years.

SPAN WONDER OUTLINED

tions imposed on the construction by the configuration of the rock encountered in the site.

Had To Pioneer.

We can easily believe the engineer's statement it has been no easy task to design and develop a bridge across an outer harbor where the dificulties that must be overcome are extreme and abnormal. To build the San Francisco pier out in the open sea 1125 feet from shore, where the tidal velocity is seven miles per hour and the wave action tremendous, it was necessary to develop a new design, including an immense and unique cofferdam which in itself is a major undertaking. It is built of steel and concrete 65 feet under water, 30 feet thick at the bottom and its top 15 feet above water. It is being constructed in place in 22 units, three of which are already completed and will remain as a permanent fender to enclose the pier, a huge concrete monolith, and to protect it from the possible impact of passing ships.

Had Little Leeway.

According to Mr. Strauss the possible location of the bridge was defined within a very narrow radius, as to move either terminal even a few feet would seriously dislocate the other.

On Original Site.

The bridge is being built on the site selected in Mr. Strauss' original reconnaisance made in 1917.

Cited Many Details.

It was remarkable to hear the facts and figures concerning the structure which the great engineer recited casually in the course of his address without apparent effort to recall these statistical items.

Told Of Bridge Size.

Mr. Strauss said the 4200-foot center span and the two side spans of 1125 feet each make a total length of 6450 feet, or about one and one-fifth miles. The grand total length, including the two approach roads, or from the Marina Gate of the Presidio in San Francisco to Waldo Point in Marin county, all embraced within the project, is seven miles. The total bridge width is 90 feet, divided into a 60-foot roadway, with six lanes of vehicular traffic and two 10½-foot clear sidewalks.

The Monster Cable.

The two main cables are 36½ inches in diameter each and 7660 feet long between anchorages. The pull on each cable at the anchorage is 63,000,000 pounds and the counteracting resistance of the anchorage blocks is 126,000,000 pounds. Each cable weighs 11,000 tons contains 27,572 separate wires two-tenths of an inch in diameter. The total wire length is 80,000 miles, long enough, Mr. Strauss told his audience, to girdle the globe more than three times. Each cable has an anchorage block of solid concrete weighing 64,000 tons, set in the rock 25 feet below the surface. To make room for these it was necessary to remove a part of the seawall made of granite blocks brought from China. The total possible live load supported by the two main cables is 25,400,000 pounds, corresponding to the bridge roadway packed, curb to curb, and both sidewalks fully loaded, for the total length of the span which, Mr. Strauss explains, is, of course, a condition that cannot possibly occur. The load supporting capacity of the two cables is 430,000,000 pounds, or 2.6 times the maximum load. The total traffic capacity of the bridge is 260,000 machines per 24 hours.

The Talk Illustrated.

Three reels of motion pictures were shown, illustrating (1) general features, (2) the towers, (3) safety devices.

Told Interesting Facts.

During the intervals between the pictures, Mr. Strauss explained certain interesting points such as the unique system of distributing white hot iron rivets through pneumatic tubes, the cell arrangement of the tower construction, and the placing of a flag on top of a tower to indicate its completion as one was seen to float proudly in the picture.

Accidents Are Few.

Mr. Strauss stated the life of only one workman had been lost to date and that not on the site. The greatest effort is being made to protect the life and health of employes.

Keeping Costs Down.

Notwithstanding three years of litigation, the cost barring further trouble, will still be a million and a half dollars within the stated amount of $35,000,000.

The Past And Future.

Mr. Strauss says the Golden Gate bridge climaxes nearly 500 years of bridge building in this country, and that our final verdict on the project will be gauged by its service to us. The experience of the past has been that the completion of bridges at strategic points on regular travel routes have been followed by an increase in traffic, property values, industry, the development of roads and the contiguous country and a long train of secondary benefits. It is a structural feat of such magnitude and importance it is worth a lifetime of work to have contributed in any measure to its achievement and success.

Fred L. Creen and wife went to Solano county to visit relatives there.
